IRL Poster

Helena Marvin
University of Missouri-Saint Louis, marvinh@umsl.edu

Judy Schmitt
University of Missouri-St. Louis, j.schmitt@umsl.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://irl.umsl.edu/library-faculty

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation

Available at: https://irl.umsl.edu/library-faculty/1

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Libraries at IRL @ UMSL. It has been accepted for inclusion in Library Faculty Works by an authorized administrator of IRL @ UMSL. For more information, please contact marvinh@umsl.edu.
The Institutional Repository Library (IRL) is a resource for the UMSL community, designed to gather, disseminate, and preserve works. The IRL supports students by hosting and showcasing their theses, dissertations, and other student works. It also supports faculty scholarship by providing a platform for submitting and showcasing articles, books, presentations, and other works. The IRL collects analytics and provides reports on how often and from where works are viewed and downloaded. It supports data management services, including promoting research data, encouraging collaboration, meeting funder mandates, customizing metadata, using persistent URLs, and preserving legacy data. The library is collaborating with the Office of Research Administration to create SelectedWorks Profiles to showcase faculty expertise, works, and accomplishments. To find out more, visit https://libguides.umsl.edu/facultyexpertise.