Ed uc a tion al/pro-

by Doug Balsman, Tony Graf

Smok ing Ba nned

university buildings and the sale of tobacco products on campus was approved by the Board of Curators except where limited designated smoking areas are authorized. It requires the UM system to conduct health education programs to discourage the use of tobacco products. Magrath said he anticipated "people will accept the policy and follow it." UM-St. Louis has already begun offering free clinics to help smokers stop their habit (see Campus Briefs).

The Board also analyzed the pros and cons of international teaching assistants not being proficient in English. Curator Ed Turner said that once foreign TA's got jobs, they never went back to their native language. "The kids should get what they pay for," he said.

UM-Columbia chancellor Blanket Mesnow responded that sometimes the problem may be seen as an excuse by certain students not doing well in class.

This article was reprinted with permission granted by the Missouri State University Student Publishing Co.

Time For Class

90 Candidates Apply For Chancellor

by Max Montgomery

Dr. Peter Etzkorn, chair of the search committee, has been appointed to the United States-Federal Republic of Germany Youth Exchange Council. The council, which was started in 1988 by President Ronald Reagan to support German-American relations, consists of young people from both countries who participate in an internship program while working for different companies in the United States and Germany.

Etzkorn said his job on the council will be to advise, examine, and make recommendations on how to improve the program and further relationships.

"The objective is to examine all exchange relationships between the United States and Germany and to assist people-to-people situations," Etzkorn said.

by David Barnes

News editor

Approximately 40 people have applied or been nominated for the position of chancellor of UM-St. Louis, David Gaufman, chair of the chancellor screening committee, said.

Gaufman declined to divulge the names of any of the candidates. The committee will narrow down the list to 5 to 8 people in November. Those names will then be forwarded to UM System president C. Peter Magrath.

Magrath will select candidates from that list to interview. Those candidates' names will be made public and they will have the opportunity to visit the UM-St. Louis campus to talk with faculty and staff members.

Magrath will then decide which candidates he feels are most appropriate and make a recommendation to the Board of Curators, which will decide whether or not to give final approval.

The screening committee's assessment of the candidates and campus reaction will be considered by Magrath before he makes his decision, Gaufman said.

He said that all goes as planned, a new chancellor will be named in February. The screening committee will take the following into consideration:

- Administrative experience (depth, proficiency, diversity, difficulty)
- Educational/professional achievements (degrees, scholarly, academic, honors)
- Research/scholarly record (publications, grants, honors)
- Other experience/background (service, leadership, leadership, service, cultural diversity, fundraising, and corporate, cultural and community relations)
- General qualities (communication skills, relationships, competency, previous assignment, affirmative action)

Teachers Taught How To Teach Kids

No matter how you spell "Kevin Costner doesn't miss a step in 'Dances With Wolves.'"

Waci Sungamanit

Tanka

No matter how you spell it, Kevin Costner doesn't miss a step in 'Dances With Wolves.'

See Features, Page 4

Halloween Treats

Derive into the mysteries of your inner self with the ancient Tarot, look spooktacular in a costume from Robert Schmidt, or just find out how the whole thing got started.

See Halloween, Page 6

Smoking Banned

Beginning Jan. 1

by Susan Thorson

The council, which was started in 1988 by President Ronald Reagan to support German-American relations, consists of young people from both countries who participate in an internship program while working for different companies in the United States and Germany.

Etzkorn said his job on the council will be to advise, examine, and make recommendations on how to improve the program and further relationships.

"The objective is to examine all exchange relationships between the United States and Germany and to assist people-to-people situations," Etzkorn said.

by David Barnes

News editor

Approximately 40 people have applied or been nominated for the position of chancellor of UM-St. Louis, David Gaufman, chair of the chancellor screening committee, said.

Gaufman declined to divulge the names of any of the candidates. The committee will narrow down the list to 5 to 8 people in November. Those names will then be forwarded to UM System president C. Peter Magrath.

Magrath will select candidates from that list to interview. Those candidates' names will be made public and they will have the opportunity to visit the UM-St. Louis campus to talk with faculty and staff members.

Magrath will then decide which candidates he feels are most appropriate and make a recommendation to the Board of Curators, which will decide whether or not to give final approval.

The screening committee's assessment of the candidates and campus reaction will be considered by Magrath before he makes his decision, Gaufman said.

He said that all goes as planned, a new chancellor will be named in February. The screening committee will take the following into consideration:

- Administrative experience (depth, proficiency, diversity, difficulty)
- Educational/professional achievements (degrees, scholarly, academic, honors)
- Research/scholarly record (publications, grants, honors)
- Other experience/background (service, leadership, service, cultural diversity, fundraising, and corporate, cultural and community relations)
- General qualities (communication skills, relationships, competency, previous assignment, affirmative action)
EARTHLY GALA: A Tropical Ecology Gala will be held at 7pm at the Meydenbauer Center. The black-tie dinner will be held in memory for the UMSl. Louis International Center for Tropical Ecology to be used for graduate student fellowships. Call 555-6209 for more information.

SATURDAY 27

OPEN HOUSE FINALE: The UMSl. Louis Observatory will hold its Open House from 7pm to 9pm on the south campus, 7741 Natural Bridge Road. Those attending will view the planets and the transit of Mercury from the UMSl. Louis physics department will supervise the evening. In case of rain, the event will be held the following night. Call the Skywatch hotline at 555-6213 for more information.

WEDNESDAY 31

FREE FOOD AND DRINK: The University Bookstore will hold its 10th Annual Halloween Appreciation Day from 7:30pm until 9pm. There will be free refreshments and lots of dear priced including books, which makes for a special attraction they will have. We will be stocked with our Halloween collection and Dill’s signing copies of their recent books.

TUESDAY 30

PERSONALITY SEMINAR: Joyce Lascelles will lead an interactive seminar on how to use your personality to advantage in public affairs and show you how to use this information to improve personal life and job performance from 12:00-1:30pm in Room 201 Coil Hall. Lascelles is the president of Lyceum. Call the Women’s Center at 535-6380.

EXCHANGE, from page 1

Einkorn explained that exchanges are important in building lasting friendships among alumni leaders, who can be relied on to call friends to help. Einkorn encouraged potential exchange leaders to participate in the program can’t afford. One speckled green ale would like to give that the government should regulate these agreements in order to achieve the exchange, such as Federal Aviation Administration rules that Chemists like the fact that the government is more flexible and more open to exchanges, so Einkorn said.

Einkorn said that the seminars are offered during the summer, and that is the best time for uplift and encourage the exchange with other Americans. Because of this, we can give at least the next August, and if it is, good stuff. Can be made and be more involved in our work. Einkorn would return and raised in Kansas City, and after high school moved to the United States.

FRIDAY 26

MONDAY 29

ART AS A LECTURE: Yani Eben will discuss the Loggia del Lame at as a showcase for female submission at 2pm in Room 203 Lucas Hall. Call 555-6213 for more information.

LETTERS

Newspapers:
Alchemy, 5000 22nd St. NW, Washington, DC 20007

Letters should be typewritten, double spaced and addressed to the editor. No letters can be published without the author’s name.

Proposal: Student's Petition to the Speaker of the House of Representatives

Dear Mr. Speaker,

We, the undersigned students, members of the Student Senate of University of Washington, petition you to take the following action:

1. Protect and improve the University of Washington's educational programs in Business Administration.
2. Increase the budget for the University's Library System.
3. Provide more funding for the University's Science Laboratories.

We believe that these actions are necessary to ensure the future success of the University of Washington.

Yours sincerely,
[Signature]

President of the Student Senate
Homeroom: How?
If members of the Student Government Association don’t get their act together quickly, this year’s Homecoming may be next year’s flop.

Although there has been a lot of hype about resurrecting it (at least by four years), the tradition of Homecoming on this campus hasn’t been practiced in some time. It has also seemed to be one tradition that has been taken to make it a reality. Many groups, including the University Program Board and the Greeks, have talked about it and made suggestions. But so far it has all come to naught.

Why? During the last SGA meeting, members still could not agree on the date to be set for Homecoming. Suggestions were made and rejected for dates in November and December. Reasons for the rejection varied from being inconvenient to infringing on valuable study hours during finals. An informal date for next year’s event was supposed to be a tentative date in January. January? Then when?

Traditionally, most universities make their homecoming a weekend and hold parades, dances and a football game. The alumni return to enjoy the festivities and catch up on all the changes that have taken place.

This Homecoming atUM-St. Louis has been a small affair with few or no alumni attending a basketball game. It doesn’t have to be that way. A lot of students have come up with ideas to make it better.

Organizing an event as big as Homecoming takes more than lip service. It requires an enormous amount of forethought and planning. Every student group that is supposed to have a representative in SGA. But all students are welcome at the meetings. The next meeting (Nov. 11 at 6 p.m. in the JCy Building), should decide the fate of Homecoming.

If students want this to happen, then they should get the ball in motion now, before it takes place at a tennis match. If there isn’t a 100 percent effort to pull it off, the resurrection should be left for another year—a year when students are willing to do more than talk and make excuses in SGA.

Letters to the Editor

Laura E. Berardino

K.C. Clarke  managing editor

David Barnes  news editor

Christine McGraw  associate news editor

Mark Erickson  features editor

Melissa A. Green  sports editor

Joorine Arledge  special projects editor

Natalie McCarty  photo editor

Michelle McMurray  assistant photo editor

Shelly Van Meter  copy editor

Greg Albers  business director

Sharyn Steinberg  associate business director

Thomas J. Kovach  marketing manager

Patricia Belcher  ad constructionist

Sharon Jaszewski  creative consultant

Steve Orszulak  advertising representatives

Anne Weiss  Jason Buchetz

Carla Dugan  executive editor

Jen Waugh  chief executive officer

K.C. Clarke  managing editor

The Current is published weekly on Thursdays. Advertising rates are available upon request by contacting the Currents business office at (314) 516-8775. Space reservations for advertisements must be received by 5 p.m. the Monday prior to publication.

The Current, financed in part by student activity fees, is not an official publication of the University of Missouri. The University is not responsible for the Current’s content or its staff.

Editorials expressed in the paper reflect the opinion of the editorial staff. Articles labeled "commentary" or "column" are the opinion of the individual writer. All material contained in this issue are the property of the Current and cannot be reproduced or reprinted without the express written consent of the Current and its staff.

Letters Policy

The Current welcomes letters to the editor. The writer’s name, student number, and phone number must accompany all letters. Non-students must also include their phone numbers.

Letters should be no longer than three typed double-spaced pages. No unsigned letters will be published, but the author’s name can be withheld if requested. The Current reserves the right to edit all letters for space and style.

The Current reserves the right to refuse publication of letters.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, McMasters, Disagrees Dum's AMS

In the last few months some strange things have been happening at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. There is a schism between two different groups: the Alliance of Movens and Shakers and the Disabled Student Union. I really don’t wish to discuss the differences between these organizations, because I want to address a concern. I want to remain neutral, due to the fact that I am a member of both of these organizations.

So why I writing this letter? No matter what my personal wishes were, I cannot ignore a daunting battle in the Current.

In the last issue of the Current, Carol Dum, a student organizer of the Disabled Student Union said that there was no need for an executive branch. The students have had this power for years. In the next issue, Carol Dum fined the goals of the DSU, and decided that the DSU would no longer have this executive branch. So why am I writing this letter? I believe in a proper and organized administration. If DSU concludes that it does not need to have an executive branch, I would like to have this letter in the current.

In the last issue of the Current, Carla Dugan expressed her opinion on the two organizations, she said, "We are friends," and Marilyn Dum. According to Mr. Dum, a Constitu­tional Committee (DSU) met and voted that the organization no longer had an executive branch. As an executive committee to best serve the organization, and that a new revision should be drafted over the summer.

I have difficulty accepting this decision for two reasons:

1. I was the editor of the DSU newsletter and I don’t recall having a Constitutional meeting.

2. Was it such a good idea to have an in-house Executive Officer in the DSU? Why is there a Chief Executive Officer in the Alliance of Movens and Shakers?

I just a consequence that Mr. Dum holds that officer.

I assisted that Marilyn Dum’s same appear in Dum’s letter. She states that Dum does not have the authority to remove members of the Disabled Students Union. Why doesn’t Mr. Dum have the right to select leadership? After all, if we are not for Marilyn Dum, there would probably be no disabled organization. She is also the administrator of spe­cial student programs, to whom most disabled students go for assistance.

As I remember, the new chief executive officer of the Alliance of Movens and Shakers, was himself appointed to the position of president of the Disabled Students Union by an executive committee. Dum has fined the goals of the DSU, and decided that the DSU would no longer have this executive branch. So why is there a Chief Executive Officer in the Alliance of Movens and Shakers? The Alliance of Movens and Shakers. The DSU is a new organization, so how can this constitution be revised for a few weeks?

I think that the current constitution is inappropriate because it is a direct­ly to Ms. Dum, as well as other administrators. The "disab­ility attitude is the only exchange of things and make life better on the campus.

If Ms. Dum is so interested in the wellfare of disabled students, then she should concentrate on forming unity and unity within disabled students. However, she has chosen to attack to take over one group (DSU), call it another name (AMS), claim to the mind and disabled students organization and use the DSU’s money and influence.

There is sufficient evidence to say that she is trying to abolish the Dis­abled Students Union. During her presi­dency, Dum used the Women’s Center as her headquarters and re­fused the people in the center to come into the center. The Center supports Dum’s and their claims and is willing to assist her in her proposal to dissolve the two organizations into one.

With the backing of a group with some power, she can more efficiently eliminate opposition from the genuine group, as she did with Marilyn Dum, Lisa Applebaum and Dawn Blankenship.

I believe the Women’s Center is a beneficial organization and should receive funding. I also believe that the Disabled Student Union should remain autonomous and that a new constitution? Ms. Dum has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability.

I feel that the constitution is in­appropriate because it is a direct­ly to Ms. Dum, as well as other administrators. The "disab­ility attitude is the only exchange of things and make life better on the campus.

If Ms. Dum is so interested in the wellfare of disabled students, then she should concentrate on forming unity and unity within disabled students. However, she has chosen to attack to take over one group (DSU), call it another name (AMS), claim to the mind and disabled students organization and use the DSU’s money and influence.

There is sufficient evidence to say that she is trying to abolish the Dis­abled Students Union. During her presi­dency, Dum used the Women’s Center as her headquarters and re­fused the people in the center to come into the center. The Center supports Dum’s and their claims and is willing to assist her in her proposal to dissolve the two organizations into one.

With the backing of a group with some power, she can more efficiently eliminate opposition from the genuine group, as she did with Marilyn Dum, Lisa Applebaum and Dawn Blankenship.

I believe the Women’s Center is a beneficial organization and should receive funding. I also believe that the Disabled Student Union should remain autonomous and that a new constitution? Ms. Dum has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability. Of Ms. Dum’s, who has 11 years experience as an administrator of spe­cial student programs, she has never heard of being a disability.

I feel that the constitution is in­appropriate because it is a direct­ly to Ms. Dum, as well as other administrators. The "disab­ility attitude is the only exchange of things and make life better on the campus.

If Ms. Dum is so interested in the wellfare of disabled students, then she should concentrate on forming unity and unity within disabled students. However, she has chosen to attack to take over one group (DSU), call it another name (AMS), claim to the mind and disabled students organization and use the DSU’s money and influence.

There is sufficient evidence to say that she is trying to abolish the Dis­abled Students Union. During her presi­dency, Dum used the Women’s Center as her headquarters and re­fused the people in the center to come into the center. The Center supports Dum’s and their claims and is willing to assist her in her proposal to dissolve the two organizations into one.

With the backing of a group with some power, she can more efficiently eliminate opposition from the genuine group, as she did with Marilyn Dum, Lisa Applebaum and Dawn Blankenship.

I believe the Women’s Center is a beneficial organization and should receive funding. I also believe that the Disabled Student Union should remain autonomous and that a new constitutio...
ANGLERS DELIGHT: One of the first of many waterfalls at Meramec Springs. Photo: handjob Tours.

Great Trout Featured At Meramec Springs

by Mark Eilifson

Feature Editor

Only a one and one-half hour drive from St. Louis is one of Missouri’s larger springs, situated by Brad Touchette

Missouri State Park known for its year-round, but camping and fishing activities. Water or Missouri’s largest springs, situated by Brad Touchette

Missouri State Park: Sources of Low Cost Fun For Everyone

Pete Marquette: Close By Getaway

by Dave Donofo

Dorothea Vinson.

The reservoirs of a cold-blast morph, which produces a wondrous array of colors that are

Up Up And Away Fun

Balloons Ride Give New Highs

by Brad Touchette

Movie Review

Dance With Wolves

by Brad Touchette

the main attraction is the fantastic view along the Illinois River. The drive itself is very enjoyable.

The main focus of the park with five successive lookout areas offer a grand view of the park and the rivers. A sloping meadow runs alongside the Illinois River, and the Missouri River is provided at Rainbow Trout. The property was handed down to the Edge of the world. It is my great hope that you will arrange that it may be in private, considerate con­take it upon himself to rebuild the home. In His Hair (Rodney Grant), a warrior, and an entourage of more than 1,000 Indians who later come to meet with Dunhar and

The remnants of a cold-blast snowman built in 1857 serve as a reminder of a bygone era when the Meramec Workshops operated. Many of those who work in the park maintain the care of their fishery, which produces 100,000 fingerling rainbow trout for stocking each year.

Large groups also provide lots of room for fairs and play-ground facilities. Covered pic­nic tables and pavilion-type facilities are available to groups large and small. Scenic hikes Rafaela path through the park.

For those who enjoy sight-seeing, there are three areas from which to choose, but the most popular is the area by the river. This site not only has barbecues, grills and tables, but it also includes a wildlife exhibit, basketball court, playground and an open pavilion. Nearby, a conci­

The Right Stuff: Kevin Costner stars with Mary McDowell and Sam Shepard.

Wolves see page 5

CUMULATIVE

October 31, 1990

December 6, 1990
The University of Missouri-St. Louis Food Services is seeking students for banquet services.

If you desire:

- flexible hours
- competitive wages
- an excellent benefits package
- paid meals

Call Anne at 553-5242
Halloween was one of my most favorite holidays as a child. We always gathered around the orange pumpkins, bought at our local supermarket, and stacked them on the porch to make a giant jack-o-lantern. Green and orange lights beckoned us inside, promising spooky tales and treats. We would typically make a gingerbread house with our parents, using red and green frosting to create a festive and delicious center of attention. The house was always the most elaborate creation on the block, with intricate decorations and spooky characters adorning its facade. It was a true masterpiece that we would proudly display for days to come. The tradition of decorating with pumpkins and lights was a cherished one that we held dear, passed down from our ancestors, and meant something different to each family who participated in the holiday. It is a true testament to the power of tradition and its ability to bring people together, creating lasting memories and a sense of community. As we celebrate Halloween this year, let us remember the importance of preserving our cultural heritage and the joy that it brings to our lives. To the young and old alike, happy Halloween!}

Halloween Harvests: Cornucopia Of Facts From The Past
by Jocelyn Arledge

Halloween is one of our most beloved holidays, celebrated by people all over the world. Its origins date back to ancient times, with customs and traditions that have been passed down from generation to generation. In fact, Halloween was originally known as All Hallows’ Eve and was a time for celebrating the lives of the souls of the dead. It was not until the 1840s, when American settlers began to celebrate Halloween, that it took on its current form. Today, Halloween is a time for dressing up as your favorite characters, trick-or-treating, and enjoying a night of terror and fun. But did you know that there is more to Halloween than meets the eye? Read on to learn about some of the fascinating facts and traditions that make Halloween such a beloved holiday.

The History of Halloween

Halloween has its roots in the ancient civilizations of the Celts, Romans, and Druids. The Celts celebrated the end of the harvest season and the beginning of winter with a festival called Samhain, which was held on November 1st. It was believed that on this day, the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead was blurred, and spirits from the other side could enter our world. The Celts would light bonfires and leave food out for the souls of the dead, hoping to appease them and prevent them from causing harm.

The Romans also celebrated a festival called All Souls’ Day, which was held on November 1st. They believed in a belief in the afterlife and believed that the souls of the deceased could return to their families on this day. They would light candles and leave food out for the spirits.

The Drastics, a group of druids who lived in Ireland, also celebrated a festival called Pocktor, which was held on the night of October 31st. It was a time for the druids to make predictions about the future and to honor the spirits of the dead.

All of these ancient traditions blended together over time, and by the 16th century, the festival we know today as Halloween was born. It combined elements of the old Celtic and Roman festivals, as well as other traditions from the Middle East and Europe.

The Modern Celebration

Today, Halloween is celebrated all over the world, with people of all ages dressed in costumes and enjoying a night of treats and tricks. It is a time for families to come together, share stories, and have fun. The holiday is marked by the exchange of cards, the carving of pumpkins, and the dressing up as your favorite characters. It is a time for imagination and creativity, as people transform themselves into their favorite characters and bring them to life.

But did you know that Halloween has a rich history and is steeped in tradition? From the ancient Celts to the modern day, Halloween has evolved and changed over time, but it has always remained a time for celebration and joy. So the next time you are trick-or-treating or carving a pumpkin, remember the rich history and traditions that have made Halloween such a beloved holiday. Happy Halloween!
Halloween Night: "It Really Happened"

It was the night of Halloween. And a small boy we’ll call Bill, was making faces, and shouting, "I don’t think there are creeping things!" He then continued to boast. Bill went, too! The building that houses Robert Schmidt was built in 1885 and standing with biblical and vogue costumes on one side and ending with enough uniform to clothe all musicians for the musical "The Music Man" for the other. In between can be found costumers representing a history of—

So, don’t just put a sheet over your head and cut holes in it. If you read the Enquirer, you’ll find that sheets are not what the vogue ghosts are wearing this year.

Halloween Costumes Rentals

308 N. Euclid
St. Louis, MO 63110
367-7102

The building was once a time of fear. The Encyclopedia of the Harvest, and it is a fun time. Information for this article was found in "The Giant Halloween Book" and "The World Book Encyclopedia."
4th Annual

Customer Appreciation Day at the University Bookstore

Wed Oct 31
7:30 am to 7:00 pm

SPOOKTACULAR SAVINGS!

Stop by for FREE refreshments!

Lots of DOOR PRIZES!

ALSO:

from 2:00-4:00

Book signings

from:

Dr. Henry Weinstock & Dr. Charles Fazzaro, Department of Educational Studies, authors of Democratic Ideals and the Valuing of Knowledge in American Education

Dr. Daniel Monti, Department of Sociology, author of Race, Redevelopment and the New Company Town

Dr. June DiSalvo, Epistemologist, author of Beyond Revolutions

We Appreciate You!
We Travelin' On a Limited Budget

by Melissa A. Green

Sports Editor

The growing size of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) is causing problems for the Athletic Department. After a string of failures, the conference has upped its number to over 80. The addition of Missouri Southern, Pittsburg State, Missouri Western, and William Jewell has extended the limits of the sports budget for the programs.

The increased costs of the team will effect the schedules of the volleyball, men's and women's basketball, baseball, and softball teams. These teams are affected the most, but in the fact that they are in conference and are forced to play certain games.

The addition of the new teams has planted the majority of the conference in the western part of the state and in the surrounding states to the west of Missouri. The only right side of the conference is Southeast Missouri State, which will be transferring from the MIAA to the Missouri Athletic Conference. The Lion's men's basketball and baseball teams will be forced to play conference games in their regular season.

The Rivermen are tallied in scoring on eight straight games, including a 1-2 weekend sweep over Kansas City and Washburn, and a 15-11, 9-15, 15-11, 15-9 win over Washburn. The loss to Washburn dropped their overall record to 21-10, won three straight games. The Rivermen have not competed in the Missouri Valley Tournament.

The Riverwomen, who improved their record slightly, have been holding two against two goals in all other games. The Riverwomen have been scoring on eight straight games, including a 1-2 weekend sweep over Kansas City and Washburn, and a 15-11, 9-15, 15-11, 15-9 win over Washburn. The loss to Washburn dropped their overall record to 21-10, won three straight games. The Riverwomen have not competed in the Missouri Valley Tournament.

The reason locker rooms are divided is to keep up with the demand of the conference. To support many of their trips, the athletic teams must raise money in order to participate, as Athletic Director Chuck Smith, according to Smith, the budget allocates more funds to conference teams than non-conference teams because of their playing schedule.

To control the costs of traveling within the conference, the athletic department has scheduled as many games as possible in one trip. This sends to the keepers out of the classroom and on the road more. The majority trips are now planned for the weekends, and two to three games will be played on one road trip.

"We do anything to put together a schedule that allows the Rivermen to be missed for the students," said Smith. According to Tom Schnell, chair of the Chaucer's Chancing Committee for Athletics, UM-St. Louis doesn’t have money to make a commitment to the demands ex¬ pected from a Division I school. Division I schools need four to five times as much money invested in athletics as lower divisions. This money is used for grants, financial aid, and scholarships that are part of the athletic program.

Without the promise to this con¬ mimitment, without the money, said Smith, "We just need to make sacrifices to play those important conference games against our local teams.

According to Smith, UM-St. Louis faces, "That is although the athletic budget is not enough to keep up with the size of the athletic budget of the surrounding states to the west of Missouri.

The available lockers are full and are located in the men's locker area, which is the No.1 seed in the conference," Smith said. "We don't have the money to make a commitment to the requirements, to travel, and to provide traveling hotels and expenses.

The "money may not be done, but we'll go up in the ranks of Missouri and swimming locker rooms. Both overnight and locker rooms are available. In the men's general locker room, 215 lockers are available for overnight use, while there are 40 lockers available for daily use. In the men's general locker room, 80 lockers are available. In the men's general locker room, 80 lockers are available for overnight use, while there are 40 lockers available for daily use.

In the women's locker room, there are 40 lockers in the general locker room and 40 lockers in the swimming locker room for overnight use. For daily use, 80 lockers are available in the general locker room and 40 lockers are available in the sports locker room.

The addition of the Missouri Athletic Conference locker rooms is almost finished. The whirlpools and saunas will be used for the first time.

For those students who want to be away as equals. They want to feel that they have the right to enter the locker rooms just like their male counterparts. But, why in anyone allow them into the locker rooms? Speaking from a women's perspective, I want to be open to both men's and women's locker room as a reporter. I respect the player's right to privacy. I have made it a habit to interview any athlete, male or female, outside of the locker room. This doesn't mean that I don't get my questions answered. In fact, the player will answer every question with a smile.

Women reporters just want to be treated as equals. They want to feel that they have the right to enter the locker rooms just like their male counterparts. But, why in anyone allow them into the locker rooms? Speaking from a women's perspective, I want to be open to both men's and women's locker room as a reporter. I respect the player's right to privacy. I have made it a habit to interview any athlete, male or female, outside of the locker room. This doesn't mean that I don't get my questions answered. In fact, the player will answer every question with a smile.

Women reporters just want to be treated as equals. They want to feel that they have the right to enter the locker rooms just like their male counterparts. But, why in anyone allow them into the locker rooms? Speaking from a women's perspective, I want to be open to both men's and women's locker room as a reporter. I respect the player's right to privacy. I have made it a habit to interview any athlete, male or female, outside of the locker room. This doesn't mean that I don't get my questions answered. In fact, the player will answer every question with a smile.

Women reporters just want to be treated as equals. They want to feel that they have the right to enter the locker rooms just like their male counterparts. But, why in anyone allow them into the locker rooms? Speaking from a women's perspective, I want to be open to both men's and women's locker room as a reporter. I respect the player's right to privacy. I have made it a habit to interview any athlete, male or female, outside of the locker room. This doesn't mean that I don't get my questions answered. In fact, the player will answer every question with a smile.

Women reporters just want to be treated as equals. They want to feel that they have the right to enter the locker rooms just like their male counterparts. But, why in anyone allow them into the locker rooms? Speaking from a women's perspective, I want to be open to both men's and women's locker room as a reporter. I respect the player's right to privacy. I have made it a habit to interview any athlete, male or female, outside of the locker room. This doesn't mean that I don't get my questions answered. In fact, the player will answer every question with a smile.
Column, from page 9

to go to this area while the other players are able to change in privacy. I fully agree with the letter that was sent to our editor last week. In this letter, it states the possibility of establishing a media center for interviews of all athletes without the threat of the opposite sex in the locker rooms. As one of few women sports editors, I would like to show that not all women involved in sports are like the reporters mentioned so frequently in the news. I don't feel that it is necessary to enter the locker room at all. I find that reporters, male or female, should not be allowed into locker rooms for interviews. They can wait outside with the fans and the player's families, or in the media room if it is available, until the player is changed. Why not, I do?

Soccer, from page 9

"It's healthy now and he's playing with a lot of confidence," said Dallas. "Freddy did a great job this weekend. He was handleable." With seven goals, Fredrickson matched his freshmen season's scoring record. He scored just one more goal to move past John Gallicco and into 15th place on the list for career goals at UNM-Louis.
Studies to Be Held

The School of Education and Continuing Education-Extension presents the 17th annual International Relations Conference for Social Studies Educators. Topics will include making choices about issues of national security and peacekeeping, citizenship skills for a global age, what are the emerging threats to national and international security and how will the U.S. meet them?

These topics will be discussed by two nationally known speakers Friday, Oct. 26, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:10 p.m. in the J.C. Penny Building.

Building For The Future

"St. Louis Science Center—Building for the Future" will be the topic of discussion during a luncheon program to be presented at noon on Monday, Oct. 29, at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. Dwight S. Crandell, executive director of the St. Louis Science Center, will be the featured speaker. The program will take place in Room 229 of the J.C. Penny Building.

Business Study Room

A little known resource for business students is tucked away in Room 194 of the TB Tower—the Business Study Room. It’s also known as the BETA Alpha Pi Library because the accounting fraternity staffs and maintains the room and its collection of business study materials.

The collection includes textbooks in all major areas of business, CPA exam review materials and current literature from major business and financial libraries. The library is open according to a schedule posted on the door or special arrangements can be made with a BETA Alpha Pi member by calling the library at 533-4231. Student, staff or faculty contributions to the library’s collection are welcome, including business class textbooks.

ICM Here When You Need Me

The Automatic Teller

Normandy Bank

7151 NATURAL BRIDGE
ST. LOUIS, MO 63121

Member FDIC

***

FORBIDDEN MONEYS

$30,000.00 PER MONTH FORTUNE

Dear Friend,

I challenge you to join me on a quest: "Have you ever wished you could have lots of money and be free to do whatever you want in life?"

The first step to becoming financially independent is to make the decision to take a leap of faith in your finances. I have found that making that leap can be the most difficult step. But once you make the decision to act, you'll be able to take your financial freedom to the next level.

The second step is to create a plan that will help you reach your financial goals. This plan should include a budget, a savings plan, and a timeline for achieving your goals.

The third step is to take action. This means making changes to your spending habits, creating a budget, and sticking to it. Once you start seeing progress, it will become easier to continue making changes.

I am excited to share with you a program that has helped many people achieve financial freedom. The program is called "The Automatic Teller." It's a simple, powerful tool that will help you take control of your finances and achieve your goals.

Here's how it works:

1. Enroll in the program for just $25 per month.
2. Start by saving $25 per month. You will see your savings grow over time.
3. As you save more money, I will add an extra $25 per month to your account.
4. You will have access to a financial coach who will help you stay on track.
5. You will receive ongoing support and motivation to help you achieve your goals.

THE AUTOMATIC TELLER

Free Order for First 500 Who Join

Order: 645-1424

Member FDIC

The program has helped many people achieve financial freedom. I have seen people go from being in debt to being debt-free, from living paycheck to paycheck to living comfortably, and from being financially insecure to feeling secure.

Don’t be scared. It’s just a happy Halloween from all of us here at the CURRENT

I would love to help you achieve your financial goals. You can reach me at 645-1424 to learn more about the program and how it can help you.

Simplicity Inc.

Classes Start 11/13/90. 367-3567.

AM I PREGNANT?

FREE PREGNANCY TESTING

IMMEDIATE RESULTS

CALL OR VISIT

24-Hour Phone Service

TAKING THE "S.O.B. CHALLENGE"

I am a big fan of the "S.O.B. Challenge" and I want to share it with you. The goal is to save $100 per week for 10 weeks, for a total of $1,000. This is a great way to start saving money and getting your finances in order.

Here’s how it works:

1. Set aside $100 per week for the next 10 weeks.
2. Use this money for savings, not spending.
3. Check your progress each week.

THE S.O.B. CHALLENGE

*Limited to first 1,000 who try it.

WHY ONLY $100.00 DOLLARS?

Obviously, you could increase your savings goal, but $100 per week is a realistic goal that most people can achieve. The idea is to create a habit of saving money, not to save an astronomical amount. Saving $100 per week is a great way to start.

DON’T TAKE MY WORD FOR IT

Permit me to share this with you. My best friend, Tom, decided to try the "S.O.B. Challenge." He started saving $100 per week and was able to save $1,000 in just 10 weeks. He said it was the most satisfying thing he had ever done.

T.J. Brown, Eat. Play. Live. Die. I know about these programs. I have tried them all and have been completely satisfied with the results.

EASE YOUR MINDS!

I am sure you have seen the commercials about the "S.O.B. Challenge." They are true. These programs work, and they can help you achieve your financial goals.

Don’t take my word for it. I have tried them all, and I can attest to their effectiveness. They work.

To find out more about the programs and how they can help you, please contact me at 645-1424. I would be happy to answer any questions you may have. Thank you for your interest.

L. D. BROWN, FP-C, NP-C

PBG Health Services

1323ולד Rd.

Phila., PA 19148

Current reminder: Have a safe holiday... don’t drink and drive.
With Apple's introduction of three new Macintosh® computers, meeting the challenges of college life just got a whole lot easier. Because now, everybody can afford a Macintosh.

The Macintosh Classic is our most affordable model, yet it comes with everything you need—including a hard disk drive. The Macintosh LC combines color capabilities with affordability. And the Macintosh IIsi is perfect for students who need a computer with extra power and expandability.

No matter which Macintosh you choose, you'll have a computer that lightens your work load without giving you another tough subject to learn. Every Macintosh computer is easy to set up and even easier to master. And when you've learned one program, you're well on your way to learning them all. That's because thousands of available programs all work in the same, consistent manner. You can even share information with someone who uses a different type of computer—thanks to Apple's versatile SuperDrive®, which reads from and writes to Macintosh, MS-DOS, OS/2, and Apple II floppy disks.

See the new Macintosh computers for yourself, and find out how surviving college just got a whole lot easier.