Follow this and additional works at: http://irl.umsl.edu/current1970s
Retention of Pass-Fail Option Urged

The Curriculum Committee of the Faculty Senate has recommended the pass-fail option be retained in its present form. Three student-favored changes were not recommended.

The committee’s report was to have been submitted to the Senate Dec. 10; however, the Senate meeting scheduled for that date was cancelled due to the lack of a quorum.

The pass-fail option was initiated in the fall of 1969, for a period of one year. If the committee had not recommended its retention, the plan would have been dropped.

According to Dr. Eugene Corey, chairman of the committee, the three student-favored changes is the plan were not recommended because the committee felt they were not appropriate at this time.

The desired changes, as determined by a survey conducted by the student members of the committee, included decreasing the number of courses that cannot be taken on pass-fail; lengthening the period in which the option can be exercised (presently the first four weeks of the semester); and increasing the number of credits allowed on pass-fail (presently 24).

Library Cooperation Studied

Consolidation and coordination of library resources, based on collaboration among the various university libraries, is under consideration by the four campus directors of libraries.

Such cooperation is intended to improve their collections, upgrade services, and manage their resources in a more economical fashion.

The success of a central computer handling the purchasing and acquisitions for the St. Louis and Columbia campuses has resulted in an agreement that all four libraries should join in this system.

The ultimate goal, a computer-based circulation system connecting the four libraries, would provide patrons on any campus with immediate information on the status of the books they request.

Such cooperation, it is believed, will combat needless duplication through a uniform system of purchasing and acquisition.

This is intended to reduce the number of purchasing personnel needed on each campus, and to allow inexpensive printing of catalog cards.

This pooling of resources will probably entail a university-wide appraisal of the adequacy of the libraries’ stock of materials at present in light of anticipated needs and development of academic programs.

At present, a daily courier service circulates books, journals, articles, inter-library loan requests, computer print-outs, and ordinary mail among the various campuses.

In addition, the installation of teletype machines in each library will speed requests for material and assure rapid, accurate communication between the various libraries.

This will enable a student or faculty member to readily discover if a needed work is in another campus library, and arrange delivery, often within twelve hours.

To avoid unnecessary duplicate purchases of costly research materials, several procedures have already been instituted.

Every library is notified, for in-Continued on Page 5

Mum’s The Word On Curator Recommendations To Hearnes

Student president Harry Kaufman has declined to announce the names of those nominated for the Board of Curators next year by the four university campus presidents and a representative from the students’ government in Columbia at a meeting with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, Dec. 10.

Four curators will be appointed. Hearnes said that he would take the students’ nominations into consideration.

Also attending the meeting were four members of the board: Pleasont Smith, William Billings, Doyle Patterson, and John Williamson.

Kaufman said that the members of the student group agreed not to release the names. In addition, he said he personally refused to name those nominated as a gesture of student integrity.

According to Kaufman, a university official has claimed that the reason students were not included on the recently organized search committee for a new university president is the history of nominee’s names being “leaked” to the press when students have participated in search committees at other universities.

“Students are on the outside of this process and this is understandable,” Kaufman said.

Kaufman added that the selection of the new curators would be based on political considerations.

“Appointing someone more in line with student perspectives will take a long time,” he said. “It will take a lot of pressure to put on the board.”

According to Kaufman, Hearnes urged the curators to help students determine when local campus administrators, not the curators, are responsible for conditions unfavorable to students and to dispel the antagonism between the board and students.

The committee recommended that additional information on the pass-fail option be included in the university bulletin and the semester class schedule; and that students with a minimum of nine hours of regular grade courses per semester be eligible for honors recognition.

Figures released by the committee indicate that 52 percent of the grades issued during the 1970 winter session were pass-fail grades.

Of the schools and colleges, the College of Arts and Sciences had the largest percentage of grades on the pass-fail option, 63.3 percent. This compares with 4 percent for the College of Arts and Sciences in the previous semester.

The College of Education had the smallest percentage of pass-fail grades among the schools and colleges, 4.8 percent, down from 6.0 percent the previous semester. Only two courses in the school can be taken on pass-fail.

Modern Languages was the individual department with the largest percentage of grades on a pass-fail basis, 11.5 percent, an increase of from 9.1 percent the previous semester.

No Reserve Officers Training Corps courses were taken on pass-fail during the 1970 winter semester.

The percentage of grades taken on the pass-fail option increased from the fall semester of 1969 to the 1970 winter semester in all departments except the College of Fine Arts, Physics, and ROTC.

Nearly 75 percent of the courses taken on pass-fail during the 1970 winter semester were freshmen and sophomore courses, those numbered 100 and lower. Only ten percent were upper-division courses in junior-senior level classes, courses numbered 300 and above.

The graders taking courses on pass-fail during the winter semester of 1970 would have normally received at least A, 21.3 percent; B, 45.3 percent; C, 50 percent; D, 15.6 percent; and F, 4.6 percent.

The remaining 3.3 percent received excused or delayed grades.

This compares with a grade distribution in regular grades of A, 18.5 percent; B, 31.7 percent; C, 26.5 percent; D, 7.9 percent; and F, 5.1 percent, with the remaining 6.3 percent excused or delayed grades.

Long Distance Science Science

Faculty Member Goes To Burma

For International Exhibition

By Jim Gurney

Current Staff Writer

A person would probably feel extremely important to enter a foreign country for the first time and influence the local press in its position on an issue.

That was the situation of John S. Rigden, associate professor of physics and education, who conducted two four-hour seminars at Rangoon University during a recent visit to Burma, where his opinion on testing was endorsed by a Rangoon newspaper.

“Half of my audience were physics people and the other half were policy makers,” Rigden said.

“These policy makers are responsible for organizing the academic life of the students.

“They were particularly interested in the ways on testing procedures. I told them that I was against objective tests because they restrict the creativity of the student.”

The Rangoon newspaper endorsed his comments the next day in opposition to the rapid move towards objective testing.

He explained that the seminars had been arranged through the courtesy of the military dictatorship in Burma, which had introduced him to an important official in Burma’s educational apparatus with whom he resolved the details.

The sole U.S. representative to an International Science Exhibition held in Rangoon, Rigden was invited to Burma in an official capacity. He spent two weeks there in late November.

“This was the first time in eight years that any person other than a tourist was allowed to enter Burma,” he remarked. “I was invited to come back next summer by the man who had originally cut off these relationships.”

The exhibition had been held in concurrence with a youth festival, evidently uninvitedly in Burma.

“The military dictatorship in Burma has created a state of depression, according to students. “These people welcome any form of diversion in their lives.”

The show, with technical education as its theme, was expected to attract some 500,000 people. Certain nations were asked to participate and requested to bring as many items for display.

Such nations as India, East and West Germany, Japan, Russia, Hungary, and the United States were represented.

“Countries were represented that don’t even recognize each other,” he said.

The United States displayed new equipment in the field of physics. West Germany was thought to have the most elegant display, illustrating the chassis of automobiles.

Continued on Page 6
Search Group Named

All ten members of the university presidential search and screening committee have now been chosen.

The announcement was made at last Friday's meeting of the Board of Curators. UMSL is represented by Robert S. Sullivan, dean of the graduate school, and Robert L. Allen, professor economics.

Members from the Columbia campuses are Eugene R. Klein, dean of the college of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station, and George W. Preckshot, professor of chemical engineering.

Members from the Rolla campus are Theodore J. Flanigan, dean of the school of science, and William J. James, professor of chemistry and director of the graduate center for materials research.

Members from the Kansas City campus include Jack D. Heysinger, dean of the school of administration; Shirley A. Hill, professor of mathematics and education; and Elmer L. Horseman, professor of law.

Carl J. Marifenfeld, director of the environmental health surveillance center, has been selected as university-wide representative.

The search and screening committee will be expected to be held "about the middle of January," according to Dr. Thomas Jordan, chairman of the senate.

The senate is scheduled to meet last Thursday was postponed because there was no quorum. Dr. Monroe Strickberger (biology) had intended to introduce a proposal at that meeting calling for the formation of a committee to discuss with the Board of Curators three previously approved resolutions opposing their decision to penalize Strickberger.

This list will be turned over to a second committee of five members, which will conduct investigations and interviews to reduce the list to between two and five names which, unlike the first list, will be ranked in order of preference.

This ranked list will be submitted to the Board of Curators, who will make the final decision.

The committee of five will consist of three curators, an alumnus, and the elected chairman of the search and screening committee.

Since this committee has no immediate function, its establishment will be delayed until early in 1971.

Library Cooperation

Continued from Page 1

Tutors are needed for two new programs sponsored by the Human Development Corporation.

One event will be conducted Tuesday and Thursday evenings, at Elmhurst School, 9701 Chicago Heights (one-half mile south of Page and Delmar Boulevards, in Illinois School District). Another event will be held Monday and Wednesday nights, at Smith School, 440 Hall Avenue, Hazelwood (about two miles north of Northwest Plaza, in Berkeley School District).

Anyone interested in tutoring or offering further information should contact Cathy Litvag at 968-1111, or Verleean White at 997-2294; or Irene Ladner at 731-0105.

SLACKS - BELLS & FLARES
JEANS - BLUE & COLORED
SHIRTS - BODY & PULLOVER
BELTS

Library Cooperation

Continued from Page 1

Tutors are needed for two new programs sponsored by the Human Development Corporation.

One event will be conducted Tuesday and Thursday evenings, at Elmhurst School, 9701 Chicago Heights (one-half mile south of Page and Delmar Boulevards, in Illinois School District). Another event will be held Monday and Wednesday nights, at Smith School, 440 Hall Avenue, Hazelwood (about two miles north of Northwest Plaza, in Berkeley School District).

Anyone interested in tutoring or offering further information should contact Cathy Litvag at 968-1111, or Verleean White at 997-2294; or Irene Ladner at 731-0105.

SLACKS - BELLS & FLARES
JEANS - BLUE & COLORED
SHIRTS - BODY & PULLOVER
BELTS

Physics Taught To Burmese

Continued from Page 1

The faculty Senate will not hold another meeting before the Christmas break. Their next meeting will probably be held "about the middle of January," according to Dr. Thomas Jordan, chairman of the senate.

They held an informal meeting last Thursday was postponed because there was no quorum. Dr. Monroe Strickberger (biology) had intended to introduce a proposal at that meeting calling for the formation of a committee to discuss with the Board of Curators three previously approved resolutions opposing their decision to penalize Strickberger.

Their next meeting will probably be held "about the middle of January," according to Dr. Thomas Jordan, chairman of the senate.

The senate is scheduled to meet last Thursday was postponed because there was no quorum. Dr. Monroe Strickberger (biology) had intended to introduce a proposal at that meeting calling for the formation of a committee to discuss with the Board of Curators three previously approved resolutions opposing their decision to penalize Strickberger.

This list will be turned over to a second committee of five members, which will conduct investigations and interviews to reduce the list to between two and five names which, unlike the first list, will be ranked in order of preference.

This ranked list will be submitted to the Board of Curators, who will make the final decision.

The committee of five will consist of three curators, an alumnus, and the elected chairman of the search and screening committee.

Since this committee has no immediate function, its establishment will be delayed until early in 1971.

Library Cooperation

Continued from Page 1

Tutors are needed for two new programs sponsored by the Human Development Corporation.

One event will be conducted Tuesday and Thursday evenings, at Elmhurst School, 9701 Chicago Heights (one-half mile south of Page and Delmar Boulevards, in Illinois School District). Another event will be held Monday and Wednesday nights, at Smith School, 440 Hall Avenue, Hazelwood (about two miles north of Northwest Plaza, in Berkeley School District).

Anyone interested in tutoring or offering further information should contact Cathy Litvag at 968-1111, or Verleean White at 997-2294; or Irene Ladner at 731-0105.

SLACKS - BELL & FLARES
JEANS - BLUE & COLORED
SHIRTS - BODY & PULLOVER
BELTS

Physics Taught To Burmese

Continued from Page 1

At the end of the exhibition, each country donated its display to the Burmese government.

Before returning to the United States, Rigden spent five days in Malaysia, where he was consulted on the feasibility of constructing a technical high school. Describing the background for such an undertaking, he said, "The country consists of three ethnic groups: 40 percent Malaysian, 40 percent Chinese, and 20 percent Indian. The Chinese and the Indians were imported to do the work of the bureaucracy. They hope to bring the Malaysians to the level of the other two groups by encouraging more of them to pursue engineering and science. In the past, the challenge of training Malaysian students. His purpose had been the postponement of plans for building the technical high school in May. "They want this high school but they haven't made any plans," Rigden explained. "I gave them a reasonable approach to complete the school in three years."
GM To Be Challenged On Consumer Responsibility

WASHINGTON (UPS)-Campaign GM is back for Round II in its battle to make General Motors responsible.

Campaign GM, the offshoot of the Project Corporate Responsibility (PCR) devoted to haunting the corporation until it becomes responsive to those it affects, has announced plans to take to GM Board of Directors.

Militating that corporate shareholders, consumers, dealers and employees have no effective voice in corporate decisions or directions that directly affect them, Round II will focus on restructuring the decision-making processes presently locked in the secret sanctums of GM's isolated Board of Directors.

Phillip Moore, Campaign GM coordinator, presented three proposals, already on their way to Chairman of the Board James Roche, which would require the General Motors proxy to list shareholder nominees for director and management employees;

- expand the corporation's decision-making base by permitting GM constituencies (employees, dealers and consumers) to participate in the election of directors;
- provide shareholders and constituencies with the minimum information they need to effectively judge whether or not management is meeting its public responsibilities.

At present, election of GM management is as it is in most other big corporations - a charade, Moore charged. The management picks its slate of candidates and sends it out to the shareholders to fill in the blanks and send it back in. As Moore puts it, "There is no debate, no campaign, no contest."

Proposal No. 1 would force GM to list both management and nonmanagement candidates on the proxy. Nominations by management would be as it has been in the past. Nominations by shareholders would be by petition. As few as 100 shareholders could submit nominations for management and these names would be by petition. As few as 100 shareholders could submit nominations for management and these names would be added along with GM nominees alphabetically, on the ballot. The Project On Corporate Responsibility owns 12 shares of GM stock.

Proposal No. 2 would permit GM's 794,000 employees as well as countless dealers and consumers to participate in the selection of three of the company's directors. Each constituency would hold a special election, in which it would select one director, subject to shareholder ratification. At present these constituencies have virtually no participatory role in GM decision-making, other than building their $21.2 billion annual revenues.

Proposal No. 3 requires GM to publish in its annual report hard statistics of concern to both shareholders and the public: air pollution control, automobile safety and minority hiring. In the past the firm has refused to make public this information.

Campaign GM has as yet had no direct contact with GM directors about their proposals. Moore said, however, that they do not expect GM to reform it itself. It is for this reason that they are taking their proposals to individual and institutional shareholders with whom they have had success in the past, and from whom they expect support.

They need 3 per cent of shareholder voting to get shareholder nominations in the proxy statement for this year's May election. Last year, they attempted to get Betty Furness, Rene Da Bois and Rev. Canning Phillips in as three new additions to the board's decision-making staff. Moore estimated that they received between 2.7 and 2.8 per cent of the votes. This year, he feels, they should have no problem.

Harold E. "Matt" Mattingly Jr. has been designated as editor-in-chief for the 1971 Current by the Student Publications Committee. His term of office will commence at the start of the winter semester and conclude at the end of the winter semester in early 1971.

Mattingly, a junior with a double major in English and history, is a 1968 graduate of McBride High School. His previous journalistic experience includes movie reviewer for the McBride Colonnade, and staff writer and circulation director of the Current since the fall of 1968.

Mattingly announced that his editorialship will emphasize "continuity."

"This year's editor will have the added responsibility of reorganizing the staff so as to prepare new staff members to operate the Current after the graduation of this year's juniors, like myself, who constitute the majority of the staff at present," he said.

Regarding his editorial policy, Mattingly described his approach as "proactive" without deviation to ideological considerations. "I don't have stock in either the Left or the Right," he stated.

Mattingly mentioned that the staff has several openings for news, feature and sports writers, and photographers, as well as general newspaper production personnel.

He welcomed all interested students to contact him or other members of the editorial staff in the Current office, room 218 of the Administration Building, as soon as possible.

Turned off by orthodox religion?
We believe in freedom of thought.
We believe in being relevant.
Try us.

Thom. Jefferson Unitarian Church
315 S. St. Francis
Morinant, Mo. 637-4556
First Unitarian Chapel
101 South Taylor
Kirkwood, Mo. 821-0911
1st Unitarian Ch. Of St. Louis
Waterman near Kingshighway
St. Louis, Mo. 361-0595
1st Unitarian Church of Alton
Alton, Ill. 620-2442
1st Unitarian Church of Alton
420 N. 4th St.
Alton, Ill. 620-2442

SPECIAL TIMES FOR SPECIAL PEOPLE
NORTHLAND/SOUTH COUNTY
WEST COUNTY
QUALITY JEWELERS
WEBMueller
FOR OVER 13 CENTURY

Cool Valley Barber
8450 Florissant Rd.
UNIVERSITY CENTER
1/4 mi. S. of I-70
RAZOR CUTTING
1st Unitarian Ch. Of St. Louis
Waterman near Kingshighway
St. Louis, Mo. 361-0595
First Unitarian Chapel
101 South Taylor
Kirkwood, Mo. 821-0911

PARKING LOT
Parking Lot
9779 St. Charles Rock Rd.
101 5:00

ENTERTAINMENT
"What's-His-Name"
Monday thru Sat.
8:00 P.M. to Closing
"Lums located on the well-known "Spartans Parking Lot"
College Night (Tues.)
2nd Beer on us
Ladies Night (Mon.)
2 Beers for price of 1

This is 420 N. 4th St.
Alton, Ill. 620-2442
"What's-His-Name"

1st Beer Free
With ID

Professional typing of thesis & papers.
TRANSCRIPT INC.
CE. 1-4715
After 6 p.m. & weekends:
BR-4-4082

9250 N. Hiway 140
837-2654

3rd Beer Free
With ID

17, 1970
Page 3

December 17, 1970
UMSL CURRENT EDITORIALS

Selecting A President--
A Job For All

The argument advanced by an un­ man university-wide official, that students were not placed on the search committee for a new president because they are likely to prematurely reveal the names of candidates for the position, requires, for the un­ teenth time, an explanation of the fauty's logic behind the position, requires,
A number of incidents, most recently one at Harvard University, can be cited to support such an ar­
The argument boils down to a statement that students are not as responsible, or mature, as memers of the faculty and administration.

As a result, they are not able to resist the temptation to reveal the identities of the nominees, causing embarrassment and the withdrawal of candidates.

Students in this university are validly concerned with the selection of a new president. This is our university,
too. To abandon student participation in making that selection because of such an argument is shameful.

The curators' relegation of student participation to a mere nominating capacity is a sop intended to quiet student protest over the lack of a meaningful role in the selection process. We continue to support direct student involvement in the selection of a new president.

Beyond The Tinsel

When you're hanging out that Christmas stocking or daydreaming of sugar plums, think for justa mom­ other, foodstuffs,

The Christmas holidays are always a time for topical, style, and tradition--a fashion that may be Curators' relegation of student participation to a mere nominating capacity is a sop intended to quiet
student protest over the lack of a meaningful role in the selection process. We continue to support direct student involvement in the selection of a new president.

fluent, cannot deny the joy the presents will create.

Students in this university are validly concerned with the selection of a new president. This is our university,
too. To abandon student participation
in making that selection because of such an argument is shameful.

The curators' relegation of student participation to a mere nominating capacity is a sop intended to quiet
student protest over the lack of a meaningful role in the selection process. We continue to support direct student involvement in the selection of a new president.

This spirit of giving, so prevalent at this season, often fades at other parts of the year. Several poverty and tutorial programs designed to improve the quality of urban life lack funds and personnel. Give it a little thought--this type of com­ mittment is needed all year round.

Last 1970 Current

This is the last issue of the Current for the year. Publication will resume

By RICHARD DAGGER
Current Editor-in-Chief

"Twas the day before Christmas vacasion, Dec. 18, and UMSL students were celebrat­ing in traditional fashion--a fashion that may be curtailed next year.

Harold Eickhoff, Dean of Student Affairs, told the Current that "this year things got thoroughly out of hand."

"Thoroughly out of hand" involved open drinking, intoxication, and the presence of inebriated non-students on campus.

The result of this situation, the dean said, means that music from tape recorders and record players will no longer be allowed in the cafeteria the day before Christmas break. Dancing, which usually requires music, will also be outlawed.

This action is based on that Eickhoff called "the abdication of responsibility" on the part of students.

Students didn't live up to the level of maturity I've come to expect from students," he said.

In the past, informal dancing to recorded music has been per­ mited in the cafeteria if it is within the bounds of "good taste and modcation," the dean explained.

Eickhoff told a reporter that the tradition of pre-Christmas celebrations is as old as UMSL, adding that "it is also a tradition that the dean spends the day in the cafeteria."

"We are going to make every effort to place barriers in the path of the tradition as it manifested itself Dec. 18," he asserted.

Eickhoff explained his view of this year's traditional celebration:
He was sitting on the west side of the cafeteria attending a fraternity luncheon.

"When I left the luncheon, I walked into the east side and the first thing I saw was an empty half-pint of wine, an empty bottle of Sea­ gram's Seven Crown, and an empty can of Budweiser.

"Off a single table," he continued, "I confiscated one fifth, three­ fourths full, another seven-eighths full, and another not yet tapped.

"Appropriate action was taken," he stated.

"Appropriate action" included instituting disciplinary procedures against two students and warning others that "if there were any more evidence of intoxicating beverages at all, the area would be cleared."

One non-student, found by Eickhoff in a "highly inebriated state," a soda in one hand and an open bottle sticking out of his coat pocket, told the dean that he had come to campus with his brother who knew a student here who had reported that "girls were available."

He was escort­ed off campus.

This year the festivities were confined primarily to the cafeteria.
A fraternity dance was held in the Student Union building.
In previous years celebrations occurred in the cafeteria, the Union, and Benton Hall Lounge.

Looking ahead, Eickhoff said, "If the tradition builds and continues to grow as the campus spreads out, the difficulty of placing restrictions will become an impossibility."

Security officers performed as usual during the Christmas celebrations. Eickhoff noted, but "recognize this is a day of hyperventilation."

The Curators' relegation of student participation to a mere nominating capacity is a sop intended to quiet
student protest over the lack of a meaningful role in the selection process. We continue to support direct student involvement in the selection of
a new president.
No Christmas Spirits
Dear Editor,

Friday of this week will mark the beginning of the 16-day holiday period. One cannot help but look forward to this break with eagerness and anticipation. Hence, it comes as no surprise that everyone will be more than a little keyed up and the future;alding the holiday I look forward to this break with

David R. Gasz
Dean of Students

REVIVAL
Dear Editor,

The university should consider the following proposals in light of its own self-interest and integrity:
1. Continuously examine and clearly proclaim with sensitive conscience its moral and social responsibilities for the present and the future;
2. Provide for an education which would free a person, not narrow and same holiday season and for a happy, healthy, and rewarding 1971.

David R. Gasz
Dean of Students

December 17, 1970 UMSL CURRENT Page 5

Re-election Results Not Released Yet

The official results of last week's re-election of day school representatives to the Central Council will not be released until Friday, according to George Wilhelm, chairman of the council's election subcommittee.

Wilhelm said that he is withholding the results on the advice of John Heithaus, chairman of the Appointments and Elections Committee of the council. He indicated that the results would be announced after being approved by the entire committee at a meeting scheduled for Friday.

Wilhelm did announce that every candidate had received at least one vote and would presumably assume office. Only eleven candidates filed for the eleven positions to be filled.

Candidates in the election included incumbents Bob Hausladen.

Court, Council Vacancies

Applications for positions on the Student Court are now being accepted, according to John Heithaus, chairman of the Central Council Appointments and Elections Committee.

Five alternate and regular seats on the court will become vacant at the end of this semester. Any student who is not a member of the Central Council is eligible for consideration.

Students are also needed to serve on three council committees. The Curriculum Committee, chaired by Paul Wilhelm, needs workers for the proposed course evaluation project of the council. The Publicity Committee needs members, according to chairman chairmen; John Heithaus, secretary; Margie Kranzberg, treasurer; and representatives Susan Whitworth and Comrie Kluebren.

Other candidates included Susan Morice, Linda Bridwell, John Heithaus, Greg Tye, Mary Stollhans, and Debbie Winship.

The election ends a six-month dispute between the council and the Student Court. The conflict arose over the decision of a council election subcommittee last spring to invalidate votes cast on a voting machine that contained incorrect voting instructions.

Keith Kramer. The committee publishes the monthly activity calendar and prepares a comprehensive student handbook.

PM Schnebel, chairman of the Grievance Committee, is seeking students interested in investigating student grievances.

Applications for positions in these positions can contact Heithaus, Wilhelm, Kramer, or Miss Schnebel through the council mailbox in room 117, Administration building.

CAMPUS REP NEEDED
Write to: Jack Green
International Tent Retreat
350 East 84th St.
New York, N.Y. 10028

It's not too early to think about...
New Years Eve - Join Us
Make your reservations early!

COMPLETE EVENING (for 2)
$25.00
Drinks - Buffet - Live Music - FUN
Music by - The "In Crowd"
John Reno

FEATURING:
Tim Cartwright
every Wed., Thurs., Fri., & Sat. Nites 3654 Florissant Road
University Park Shopping Center

Over 9,500 people will see this space -
IT COULD HAVE BEEN YOUR AD - See
Steve Dagger or Gerry Benz - 453-5175

We wish you a Merry Christmas
we do
we do
we really do!
COME IN AND VISIT US DURING the holidays
UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

December 17, 1970 UMSL CURRENT Page 5
Book Reshelving in Library Snarled

By MIKE JONES
Current Associate Editor

The lack of funds for additional student help is resulting in delays in the reshelving of books in the library, according to Miss Susan Freegard, head librarian.

"We're really quite concerned about the situation," Miss Freegard said.

A number of students have complained in the last week to Miss Freegard and the Current that an unusually large number of books were lying on tables in the library, waiting to be shelved.

The complainants said that the unshelved books prevented many students from finding and using needed books.

A count taken by the Current Sunday afternoon revealed that 1,788 books and bound periodicals and 417 unbound periodicals were lying unused on tables on the fourth and fifth levels of the library.

The problem of reshelving is most serious on weekends because fewer people work in the library then, Miss Freegard stated.

"We have smaller shifts working on weekends," she explained. "It takes two people to man the circulation desk. If there are only two people on the shift, there is no one available for reshelving."

Eleven students work part-time in the circulation department of the library. This is far short of the number needed, Miss Freegard declared.

The fund extra funds to hire more students, but we still don't have enough," she said.

A special report published by the Library Committee of the Faculty Senate in May, 1969, recommended that 61 student assistants be employed in the library for the present academic year, based on estimated enrollment and the size of the library's collection. It recommended that 20-25 students be employed in the circulation department.

Miss Freegard said that she had to have the reshelving backlog solved by the end of the Christmas vacation.

We hope to have this problem straightened out by the Spring semester," she added.

Do all your banking at Friendly, Courteous, Neighborly

Normandy Bank

7151 NATURAL BRIDGE
SAINT LOUIS, MISSOURI 63121

Between homework and classes there's little time left for leisure: don't spend it running around to pay your bills or purchase money orders. A mere 6¢ stamp will deliver your check. Your cancelled check is your receipt. Your check book will help you manage your money more wisely and help prepare you for business or home making in the near future.
Red and Gold Gun For Two

Continued from Page 8

handed.

"Ron is an aggressive player," said Smith, "so he's going to pick up fouls.

"Everytime Ron leaves the game," he said again, "we get hurt.

The Cardinal outside shooting didn't help, either. In keeping with the season, the Rivermen got deeked by Holley. Gary Holley, that is.

The senior guard is described in the Jewell press guide as a
"5'10" package of potential dynamite.

He exploded from the outside and sank the visitors with consistently accurate shooting.

On Monday, the Rivermen came home to take that first small step toward Smith's proposed "long winning streak.

In so doing, they stepped over the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 76-68, in a game which was disappoointing to both teams.

"I was very much disappointed in the performance of, actually,
both ballclubs," said Panther coach Charles Parsley.

"From what I've been told, St. Louis was a better ballclub than what they showed tonight," the UWM coach added.

Parsley was not alone in his opinion of the UMSL performance.
Carkhum stated flatly, "We just didn't play a good game. We should have beaten them by about, I'd say, at least twenty points.

"Our defense could have been better," the UMSL forward added.

But it was the UWM defense that got the most attention. Unlike UMSL's last four opponents, Milwaukee did not throw a press at UMSL's performance.

"It's all improvement, but it's not much of an improvement as I'd like to make," Smith said of the foul shooting. "We're going to have to get it right or be better if we're going to win these close games."

And what did Smith say after the UWM game about that winning streak he spoke of Saturday? "We figure on three this week, at least."

"That's how many games the Red and Gold will have to come before taking to the road against Arkansas and Memphis State next week.

---

JV Riverman Jim Stelts (15) is suddenly separated from the ball during the loss to Boys' Club

Tuesday. Stelts suffered a cut lip after the fall. The officials called for a jump ball.

Current Photo by Mike Olds

Stenner Headlines Alumni Squad

Jack Stenner, Chuck Henson and Terry Reiter will return to UMSL basketball action Saturday night at 6 p.m. when the alumni takes on a faculty team in the annual Alumni Night battle. The game will take place at Viking Hall and precede UMSL's game with Northeast Missouri State.

Stenner, UMSL's all-time leading scorer with a three-year total of 1,258 points, is currently working for the government in Washington, D.C. He graduated in 1969.

Henson, fourth on the all-time list with 519 points in two years, graduated in 1970, and is now a junior high teacher and coach in southeast Missouri.

Reiter, at 6'8" the tallest player ever to wear the Rivermen uniform, recently returned from ac-ductive duty with the Army in Germany. Terry scored 327 points in two years of action of the first Embassy's intercollegiate teams.

The faculty-alumni battle, won last year by the alums, is part of the festivities at Alumni Night.

Old grads will attend the two games and then discuss old times at a get-together afterwards.

At halftime of the varsity game,
the Alumni Association will present its award to the "Outstanding Faculty Member."

young america

presents an exciting collection of Holiday fashions and gift ideas. Select from hundreds of brand names

- PANTS
  - wool blends, cords, velours, demins; regular...$8-16
  - now...$5-10

- PANT SUITS
  - double knits, velours, velut pannes; regular...$24-50
  - now...$17-26

- SHIRTS
  - stripes, solids, paisleys, prints; regular...$7-12
  - now...$5

- SWEATERS
  - shrinks, vests, cardigans, turtles; regular...$7-18
  - now...$3-$7

- LINGERIE
  - loungewear, sleepwear, innerwear; regular...$3.50-36
  - now...$3.50-$27

- BOOTS, BELTS, BAGS, AND BANGLES
  - all at 20% - 50% discounts

Warehouse

1394 honey road

 Monday-Friday 9 a.m. - 9 p.m
 Saturday 9 a.m. - 6 p.m
 Closed Christmas and New Year's weekends

 We Honor Bank Americard and Master Charge

Dec 17, 1970  UMST CURRENT  Page 7

---
Rivermen Play Santa, But Begin “Streak” – Maybe

By MIKE OLDS
Current Sports Editor

“We’re going to come home Monday and start a long winning streak,” commented tired and depressed head coach Chuck Smith Saturday. He had ample reason to be frustrated. His charges had only minutes before coming off the court with a stunning defeat, having been outclassed by the Cardinals of William Jewell College, 72-97. Meanwhile, down the hall, amid the shouts of the triumphant Jewell players, Card coach John Hickman was overflowing with praise for the Rivermen in general and Smith in particular.

He was genuinely grateful for the opportunity to play the Rivermen, commending that a large, state school such as UMSL had nothing to gain and everything to lose by tangling with a “no-name” institution such as Jewell. “They’re really doing us a favor,” he commented.

Well, you’re not alone, coach. The Rivermen have been doing teams favors all year.

Take McKenzie College, for instance.

This year had the host Bearcats well in hand, 75-60, before bombarding the Rivermen with 4 points in the last seven minutes to take an 84-79 loss back home with them.

“We just lost our poise badly,” commented Smith after the McKenzie debacle. He shook his head and slowly repeated the phrase, “We just lost our poise.”

“They started to take the game to us with that all-out desperation attack,” he added, pointing to the magnified Bearcats press defense, which Smith described simply as “great.”

UTM, NEMO Next For Cagers

It will be a battle of .500 teams when the Rivermen take on the University of Tennessee-Martin Voluntwe at 8 p.m. Thursday at Viki Hall. Spires from a last year’s varsity squad to build up his bench.

His display was excelsior in this remark, following the Quincy game. “It appears as if no one on our bench has beaten out a starter for an assignment. That doesn’t mean all of our first five performers played well enough to normally remain in a lineup.”

Don’t let that get your hope up. The Bulldogs have since won three of their games, bringing such schools as the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 88-61; Central (Iowa) College, 85-56 and William Penn, 83-58.

Next week the young Rivermen get a chance to flex their muscles against the powerful Razorbacks of Arkansas University.

The Bulldogs boast a 6’7”, 6’9” and 6’10” frontliners and should pose a tough physical challenge for the running Rivermen.

Memphis State University is also on the slate next week. The Tigers, if anything, are even taller than the Razorbacks.

It’s going to be a challenging week.

The Rivermen had to scramble through the Bewerting minutes of the game without the services of their two starting forwards, Glen Bohn and Ron Cairkham, both fouled out.

Smith was especially upset at the lack of depth at forward. “We get hurt when we substitute for Cairkham. If I don’t find adequate forward replacements while Ron is on the bench, we’re really in trouble.”

Whenever Cairkham goes to the bench, we get hurt,” Smith added.

In an effort to alleviate the problem, Smith has called up Mike Pratt from the junior varsity squad for varsity chores. Pratt suited up for the Jewell game.

And it was an undefeated, ambitious Cardinal team that he and his teammates faced at Liberty, Missouri, as the Rivermen did everything but autograph the game ball for their hosts.

Once again the Rivermen failed at the line. They shot 59 percent against McKenzie but they slipped even farther at Liberty, missing a mere 52 percent from the charity stripe.

Once again the Red and Gold repeatedly turned the ball over to the opposition in the face of a tough defense.

And once again Cairkham fouled out and left the Rivermen limping through the closing minutes short-handed.

Continued on Page 7

Steamers To Go South

The Steamer has announced plans for a basketball trip to Fayetteville, Arkansas and Memphis, Tennessee on Dec. 21-23. The Steamer has we leave campus at 8 a.m. Dec. 21 and return in the early morning Dec. 24.

Price for the trip is $17.50, including bus fare and hotel. The price is available to all card holders. Cards are available to all students of the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

The Rivermen will play the Arkansas Razorbacks on Dec. 21 and the Memphis State Tigers Dec. 23.

Shedrick Bell moves past Wisconsin’s Mike Ewing during the second half of the UMSL victory over the Panthers. Jim Buder (52) sets a pick for Bell.

Current Photo