THE STORY THUS FAR . . .

In the early 1960's, a revolution in higher education was taking place. The movement called for the initiation of public universities tailored to the needs of the nation's urban citizens.

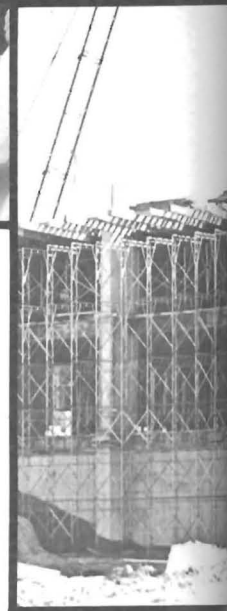

UMSL is a product of that movement. Founded in 1963, it began as a one-building campus, built on the site of the old Bellerive Country Club. In the next twelve years, nine additional buildings were constructed, and in 1976, the university acquired Marillac, formerly a college of the Daughters of Charity.

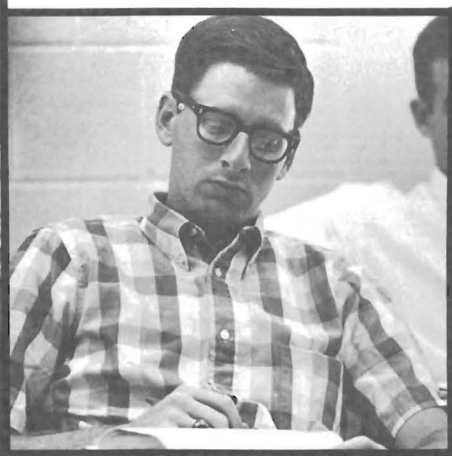

Since the doors of the old Administration Building opened, UMSL has grown to be the second largest university in the state, and the largest in St. Louis. What was once the location of an exclusive country club is now a bustling campus of 12,000 students, faculty, and staff, intent on serving the St. Louis community through teaching, research, and extension.

Right: Chancellor Arnold B. Grobman. Above: Although 12,000 students attend the university, the atmosphere of a commuter campus can make it a lonely place.

The Characters

Memories of Athletics 1977

A near miss at a national soccer championship; the final game for the highest scoring basketball player in Missouri college history; heartbreaking moments for several women's teams. Those are the memories of intercollegiate athletics at UMSL for 1976-77.

Coach Don Dallos's soccer team was apparently heading nowhere with a 2-6-1 record at mid-season, but won seven games in a row to claim the regional championship and qualify for the national finals, where the Rivermen lost a 2-1 overtime decision to New Haven, and lost in a penalty kick tie-breaker to Chico State of California for third place. Placing fourth in the nation was UMSL's highest finish since the 1973 national championship team.

Senior guard Bobby Bone finished the season with a 30.3 scoring average, second in the nation, and wound up his career with 2,678 points—one of the highest totals in collegiate basketball history. He was named to the Coaches' All-American first team and the Associated Press All-American second team. The basketball team finished at 13-13.

The women's volleyball team lost only one match all season against four-year schools, but then lost a heartbreaking playoff to Missouri-Columbia for second place in the state tournament, which cost the Riverwomen a berth in the regional tournament. The women's basketball team had a similar experience, losing to Southwest Missouri in a tough-to-take playoff game which would have qualified them for the state semifinals.

With six women competing on the men's swimming team, UMSL posted a 9-6 record, its best ever, while the wrestling team qualified two athletes—Bob Borden and Vince LoBosco—for the NCAA national tournament. Cross country runner Bob Williams also qualified for NCAA nationals.

In the spring, the men's baseball team and women's softball team made solid bids for top ranking, while the golf squad defeated rivals St. Louis University and Washington University.

"It was down in old Virginny, where Pi-K-A began . . ."

Pi Kappa Alpha

A commitment to life shared with others. A very personal thing. A brotherhood of men confident in their relationships with each other. This is fraternity. This is Pi Kappa Alpha.

Paul Free—always with a pretty girl.
